

Peek at the Week

Friday 16th March

We have had a lovely week with lots of activities related to unicorns and old toys as our theme book has been Sugarlump and the Unicorn by Sugarlump and the Unicorn by Julia Donaldson and Lydia Monks. Thank you to those parents who sent in some of their own childhood toys - the children were fascinated by them and they brought back memories for some of the staff! Mrs Spice brought in an old rocking horse and the children wrote instructions about how to ride it safely. We have been working on subtraction and some of us were able to say how many we needed to remove from a group to leave a certain number. Some of us really enjoyed making unicorn horns and headbands and playing with magical gloop and sparkly play dough. Our role play area has been a circus and we have done lots of juggling, stilt walking, hula hooping and circus tricks.

We had a really enjoyable World Book Day. The children looked amazing in their costumes and several of them brought in the story book that the character appears in, so we shared the stories.

THANK YOU to those children who have brought coins in for our EACH charity. Please keep sending them in so that we can fill up our jar.

REMINDER - There are still some children who are not reading at home regularly. It is really important that they read as often as they can at home as it makes a significant difference to their progress in all areas.

Waveney Class's star of the week is Jasper Miller. He did really good writing this week and has been kind and helpful. We hope you have fun with Star the Pony.
