

Art Lesson - Tuesday 16th June

This half-term in Art we are looking at completing art relating/linked to music. Today's lesson is to listen to a sad song and then draw something that the song makes you want to draw.

- First discuss how sad songs could make you feel while listening to them.
- Next listen to Sam Fischer - This City (or another sad song of your choice)

- After listening to it, discuss how it made you feel.
- Then draw or paint a picture of your choice - something the song made you think of.
- Look at the picture you've chosen to draw/paint and discuss with an adult or sibling what kinds of emotions the picture represents.
