

Literacy Lesson - Wednesday 22nd July

In today's lesson I would like you to write a letter to the class about what your lockdown experience has been like. There are lots of things you could focus on when writing your letter such as:

- Whether you ate any different kinds of food
- Different games that you played
- Whether you learnt a new skill or started a new hobby
- What you missed the most
- Things you are now even more grateful for.

It would be so lovely to share your letters on the website so your friends can see them. If you would like yours to be added please email it to me with permission for it to be added online.
